THE READER.

MARVELLING READER,

Soon after the death of Dr. Johnson, a subscription for a monument to the memory of that celebrated Moralist being in circulation amongst the first people of the kingdom, the Royal Academy generously and unanimously voted One Hundred Pounds towards the expences, as a tribute of regard for so extraordinary a Man, and one of their own Members; Dr. Johnson holding the place of Professor of modern Literature. This resolution being presented to the King, his Majesty, in consideration of the extreme poverty of the Royale

ACADEMY, instead of giving the ROYAL ASSENT, imposed the ROYAL VETO. - So much for Dr. Johnson.

In consequence of the exalted idea entertained by the MEMBERS of the Royal Academy of the late PRESIDENT'S (SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS) discourses, they resolved in council that an ELEGANT EDITION should be printed at the expence of the Academy; one copy to be presented to each of the Members; the remainder of the copies to be deposited in the Library of the Academy; and a copy to be given occasionally to the most successful Student, and to the newly-elected Academicians. This resolution was also offered to the King, who, on account of the still-reigning poverty of the Academy, put a period to the proceeding, by a ROYAL VETO!

MISTER WEST, the present extraordinary PRESIDENT of the Royal Academy, unterrified by ROYAL VETOS, with and by the advice of his Council, magnanimously produced duced another string of resolutions:—viz. to beg to be permitted to eat and drink, totis viribus, in spite of the Academy's poverty, the Academy's and his Majesty's good health, amidst mountains of meat, and oceans of drink; to present an address of humble thanks to his Majesty for his unexampled Muniscence to his own Academy; and to be indulged with the honour of presenting a handsome Medal of Gold to his Majesty, to her Majesty, to the Prince of Wales, and to the Princess Royal. These resolutions were fortunately received by Majesty with the most flattering cordiality; and this day, all these things (God willing) are to be performed and executed, together with the most august and sublime ceremony of Mister Benjamin West's Knighthood.

ACADEMIC PROCESSION

TO

St. 7 A M E S's.

Sol, put thee on thy best gold wig to-day;

Let rude December be the gentle May;

Chain'd be the tempests, and well bung'd the rain;

Nor let a fog his sullen twilight spread,

As lately dark'ning bade us think the head

Of some High-titled Man was cleft in twain.

Yes, yes, let Morn look down with smiling pride,
And smile on roast, and boil'd, and bak'd, and fry'd,

 \mathbf{B}

And

And grill'd, and devill'd, gums of Genius greeting;

Smile too upon the Academic Men,

Respectables indeed! who, nine in ten,

Well as of painting, know the art of eating.

Smile too on the Procession—grateful Throng,

That glorious through the Strand shall move along,

And at Saint James's give th' address of honey;

Full of rich loyalty and candied praise,

For royal favours that a world amaze!

Viz. pictures, statues, drawings, books, and money!

Rare Band! whom wide-mouth'd Mob with shouts shall hail;
WEST at the head, and WILTON at the tail.

Yet let not Wilton join the glorious Rear;

No, let not Wilton in the band appear;

Wilton, who, lazy beer-admiring Master,

For Whitbread, quits his pupils and their plaster;

Deserts, for common serving-men, the room,

And bobs or nobs with Ladies of the Broom:

Preferring thus black Charles's* Æthiop face

To Belvidere Apollo's head and grace;

Ofic! 'midst vulgar porter-pots regaling;

Who leav'st great Hercules for poor grey John+,

And, what must shock the feelings of a stone,

The youthful Venus for old Mother Maling‡.

See !

* A Servant of the R. Academy.

† An old Servant also of the R. Academy.

‡ A Servant likewise of the R. Academy.

See! from you Dome, amid th' expectant throng,

Slow moves the tribe of Benjamin along,

While Fame before them with her trumpet flies;

Whilst on their heads, from bulks and chimney-tops,

As thick as herrings, or as thick as hops,

Wild Admiration casts her countless eyes.

And now they reach the GATE of ADORATION!

And now a very sudden palpitation

Amid the fibres of their hearts they feel!

And now of ROYALTY th' electric shock,

Just as a man upon the black-brow'd rock

Has oft experienc'd from the numbing Eel*!

And

And now they panting mount SAINT JAMES'S stairs,.

In goodly order and in goodly Pairs;

Now at the HALL OF AUDIENCE they arrive;

Now 'midst the blaze of MAJESTY they fall,

Prone on their faces like affrighted PAUL,

Half dead, alas! poor Saint! and half alive.

See them, like nine-pins tumbled on the plain!

And now they get upon their ends again !-

Behold grave Benjamin th' Address present!

Now on his knees (his foul's first wish!) delighted,

Behold once-Quaker-BENJAMIN be-knighted,

Amidst a moon-ey'd host of wonderment!

Now on his shoulder drops the magic sword:

"Arise SIR BENJAMIN!" the Sovereign says-

C

Happy

Happy, the Knight ariseth at the word,

And seels himself o'erwhelm'd with Glory's rays.

In bolder streams his blood begins to flow;

His heart sublime, a richer torrent pours;

He looks contemptuous on the mob below,

And, swelling, now a pyramid he tow'rs.

With Lords behold him talk—with Ladies chat

Of sceptres, snuff, rebellions, and all that.

Thus from his humble shop the silken Worm

That crawl'd at first the earth, to man's surprise,

Bursts forth with splendour—what an angel form!

And mounts on glittering wings of gold the skies.

Talks to this mealy LORD, and now that FAIR,
So happy mingling with the Tribes of Air!

Ah! dwelleth fuch rare virtue in a fword?

Ah! lodgeth fuch huge magic in a word?

Good heav'ns! what pity for th' unletter'd Knight,

They cannot teach to speak and read and write!

And now they humbly all kiss hands so sweet;

How bleft the hand of MAJESTY to greet!

For which, miles high would thousands gladly jump:

And would but facred Majesty permit,

Such really is Ambition's raging fit,

(Unlike RABELAIS the rogue*) they'd kifs the rump!

Now

^{*} The story of Rabelais running from the Pope's presence is too well known to be repeated.

Now cloath'd with honour, see the troop retreat?

Now Majesty's good health they drink and eat!

Now, maudlin, Majesty's good health disgorge!

Now on poor kingless France they run their rigs!

Now mad for Majesty they burn their wigs!

Now, loyal, fry their watches* for King George!

love blad the hand of Majaark to greet ad would be faced Majerry award.

THE END.

^{*} This farce was actually performed during the late reign, in the-full foam of loyalty, by the MAYOR and ALDERMEN of a certain.
